There are three common ways to employ a team in Egypt: build it through Talent360 without incorporating, set up your own legal entity, or contract an employer-of-record (EOR) provider. This guide compares them across 12 pillars, then sets out the costs Egyptian law places on any employer, whichever route you take.

01 The comparison in 12 pillars

Talent360, your own entity, and an EOR

Pillar	Team via Talent360	Own Egypt entity	Employer of record (EOR)
Set-up cost	No set-up cost	Incorporation, licences, bank account	Provider onboarding fee
Time to hire	We start within a few days	After incorporation and registrations	After contracting the provider
Legal exposure	Carried by us as the employer	Fully on your company	Carried by the provider
Monthly overhead	Fixed fee per person	Office, accounting, admin	Fee per person
Payroll and tax	We run payroll and tax	Fully your responsibility	Run by the provider
Social insurance	We register and follow up	Self-managed	Run by the provider
Scalability	Scale up or down flexibly	Tied to the entity's capacity	Usually flexible
Exit	End the service per contract	Liquidate the entity, which takes time	End the contract
Management bandwidth	We handle day-to-day operations	Needs a local admin team	Partly managed
Market testing	Suited to testing before committing	Long commitment from day one	Suitable
Medical insurance	Arranged within the package	You contract it yourself	Depends on provider
Government relations	We follow up for you	Your responsibility	Followed up by the provider

Employer tip

The biggest differences are at the start and the exit: with Talent360 you start within days without incorporating, and end the service under the contract with no entity to liquidate.

02 What the law requires of any employer in Egypt

These costs apply under all three options

Minimum wage, private sector	EGP 7,000 a month since 1 March 2025
Employer social insurance	18.75% of the insured wage
Employee social insurance	11% of the insured wage
Insured wage, 2026	EGP 2,700 to 16,700 a month
Periodic raise	At least 3% of the insured wage a year (Labour Law 14/2025 Art 12)
Foreign employees	Work permit and residence for work (Art 71)

The options don't differ on these costs. They differ on who registers employees, runs payroll and tax, carries the employer's liability, and on the fixed costs around them.

03 Worked example: the cost of one employee

Gross salary EGP 10,000 a month, 2026 rules

Worked example · Gross salary EGP 10,000

1. Employee insurance: 10,000 × 11% = 1,100.
2. Payroll tax: 592.50 a month; Martyrs Fund: 5.
3. Net pay: 8,302.50.
4. Employer insurance: 10,000 × 18.75% = 1,875.

Company cost: EGP 11,875 a month before any management fee

With Talent360 a fixed fee per employee is added on top, covering recruitment, contracts, payroll and insurance. With your own entity you add set-up, office, accounting and local management costs.

04 When does each option fit?

Three common scenarios

Option	Fits when
Team via Talent360	You want to start fast, test the market before committing, or scale the team up and down without local management.
Own Egypt entity	You plan a long, large presence, want full control, and can take on set-up time, capital and local management.
Employer of record (EOR)	You only need employment contracts and compliance, and handle recruitment and day-to-day operations yourself.

05 Quick decision checklist

Answer these before you choose

- [ ] How many people do you need in the first 12 months?
- [ ] When must the first hire start?
- [ ] Do you want to test the market before a long commitment?
- [ ] Who will run payroll, insurance and tax day to day?
- [ ] Do you have local management in Egypt?
- [ ] How would you exit if your plans change?
